DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-9, 11-12, 29-30, 32-33, and 35-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McBrayer et al (US 5,552,039).

McBrayer et al disclose a liner for a reactor vessel comprising a porous layer (24) and a non-porous layer positioned against the porous layer, with the porous layer between the non-porous layer and the wall vessel, a connector for establishing fluid communication with the porous layer, and a pump with the connector capable of supplying heat transfer fluid, wherein the fluid comes in contact with the porous layer, preventing the fluid in contact with the wall vessel (figure 1, col. 9, lines 1-51). A pressure sensor (46) along with a flow meter (42) to measure the pressure and flow. The porous layer is adjacent the vessel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 10, 31, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McBrayer et al (US '039), and further in view of Hervert et al (US '632).

McBrayer et al disclose the claimed invention above, but fails to teach a leak detection sensor.

However, Hervert et al disclose a connector mean (6) for the purpose of detecting leakage from the porous liner.

Art Unit: 1725

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide a leakage detection system as taught by Hervert et al, in McBrayer et al in order to monitor the leakage.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 1/31/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the new amendment, a pump in fluid communication with said connector to “continuously pass” a heat transfer liquid through said porous layer to cool said non porous layer and “remove heat therefrom”, should overcome the prior art, McBrayer et al. Examiner respectfully disagrees. The pump of McBrayer et al is capable of continuously passing the fluid to cool the non porous layer and inherently removes heat therefrom. Therefore, the new amendment does not overcome the McBrayer et al's apparatus.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
